

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is almost no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The skin must be cured through the skin. The germ must be washed out, and so must have long been found worth less. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of watergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

FRANK D. HALL, DRUGGIST, NORTH PARK PLACE, NEWARK, OHIO.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist writes: "I am convinced that D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria." It will take away the itch the instant you apply it.

In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a $1 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work.

Sis Perkins.

One of the established successes in the theatrical world is "Sis Perkins," the rural comedy drama that will be seen at the Auditorium Saturday, March 30, matinee and night. While the comedy element predominates and laughter-compelling situations are the rule, there is a touch of sentiment, a vein of heart interest and a story which takes the auditor from the peaceful life of the farm to the hustle and noise of the city streets. Seats Thursday at 9 o'clock a. m.

The Light Eternal.

"The Light Eternal," a spectacular romantic drama of the fourth century, is announced for presentation at the Auditorium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 1, 2 and 3. This play has proven of unusual appeal to all classes. Though its scenes and incidents are only in part based on historic fact, they illustrate most potently the spirit that established the Christian religion. The play is dominated by a strong romantic love interest, while its delectable atmosphere impressively in evidence. Its action is inspiring and is permeated by fervor and genuine feeling. The production is remarkable for the truth and beauty of its settings and the gorgeousness of its costumes. Melody marks the measures of the incidental music and blends into a beautiful and harmonious whole.

AMUSEMENTS

Last Night's Play.

It took sixteen scenes to portray the triumphal progress made by the proverbial cow in its trip over the moon at the Auditorium theatre on Monday night when the old nursery rhyme was embellished with moon visitors, Chinese temples, seminary girls, etc.

From a scenic standpoint the play certainly left nothing to be desired and the corps of stage help must have equaled the audience which was conspicuous by its absence. Two love stories run through the melange and a number of songs are interspersed by a small chorus.

The one bright light was Ed Gilmore as "Happy, a child of fortune."

Mr. Gilmore worked hard with his comedy line and that he was successful was attested by the laughter. John Gilmore as Albert, who figures prominently in one of the love affairs, was a chap of nice appearance, who struggled with an indifferent role.

One of the best bits of the show was the perspective view of an approaching locomotive. The arrangement was a clever bit of stage craft and was heartily applauded.

PRESS AGENT SAYS:

Mutt and Jeff Tonight. Maybe you haven't laughed for so long your face has become calloused. If so, it's time to "loosen up." Physical and mental exercise often cheats the doctor. Somehow or other, people like to cheat the doctor. Try it. Go see "Mutt and Jeff" and laugh "your blamed head off." A rip roaring laugh may enable you to keep your appendicitis money. You know it's fashionable nowadays to have a fund ready to present to some needy doctor for relieving your of your appendix when he has urgent need of the money. Go to the Auditorium tonight, "Mutt and Jeff" are going to be there.

NEWARK MAN WOULD PROVIDE WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED ACTORS

The following is a paragraph from the Sunday Enquirer's New York letter:

A dinner given at the Lamb's club the other day by Wilton Lackaye and 60 or more other unemployed actors, at which their woes were discussed, is bearing fruit. Harry Solby Fulton, one of Charles Dillingham's bright young men, arrived in town yesterday with a scheme of relief. In brief Mr. Fulton's plan is to give all actors, advance agents and even authors not at present engaged employment in a coal mine whereof he claims part ownership. Various members of Mr. Fulton's family have for a long time been interested in coal lands near Cannelville, Ohio. Recently the lands have been developed to such an extent that they will soon yield large returns, and Mr. Fulton has been appointed one of the coal barons. His first duty is to engage laborers to operate the mines, and in view of the labor problems at present rampant among miners he is not finding the task a simple one. It has occurred to him, therefore, that many "at liberty" actors, who have been bewailing their fate, might be glad of a term of employment, especially during the summer. As an extra inducement Mr. Fulton promises his recruits to erect near the entrance of the mine billboards, whereon shall be inscribed in large type the names of those burrowing in the earth below.

Mr. Harry S. Fulton is a native of Newark, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Fulton of North Fifth street. He has been in the theatrical business for a number of years and spends the summers at his home here. He is this year advance manager for Miss Elsie Janis in "The Slim Princess." It is said that Mr. Fulton with his father and other capitalists is the owner of a coal mine at Cannelville.

ARLIE LATHAM FIRED BY MCGRAW

Dallas, Tex., March 26. — Arlie Latham, one of the most famous of all the old time baseball players and a character of the modern day game who has been carried by the New York Giants in the capacity of coach for the past four years has been released.

He has left the club, going to Memphis, and it is presumed he will endeavor to land a place with Chicago or some other big league organization.

Latham's value to the club as a drawing card is finite, but he had to be included in the 25 ball players allowed a manager after May 15, and McGraw drew in so many valuable youngsters this year that he finally had to make room for them somehow.

Walter Arlington Latham celebrated his 53d birthday in camp at Austin a few days ago. He was the oldest man in point of service earning a livelihood out of the game, having been player, manager, umpire and finally coach for almost 40 years. He was one of the greatest baserunners of all times and one of the best fielding and hitting third basemen. Few of the Giants with whom he worked were born when he was in his prime.

JUST THREE YEARS AGO TODAY KETCHEL PUT O'BRIEN AWAY.

Willus Britt was always considered a clever coach and able manager of fighters, but there was one occasion where he showed that he had picked the wrong line of dope. That was three years ago today when late Stanley Ketchel fought "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien in New York. Britt was Ketchel's manager, and for the first eight rounds of that memorable battle Stanley followed directions of Willus and Jimmy Britt, with the result that he was made a chopping block for the clever Philadelphia, who was prompted by Tony Biddle, the millionaire gentleman pugilist of the Quaker City, and Kid McCoy, the great master of ring strategy. When the bell tapped for the ninth round, Ketchel, whose head was "bloody but unbowed," determined to follow his own tactics and the tide of battle quickly changed. O'Brien and his advisers found an entirely different man in the ring. Ketchel tore out of his corner like a wild man, winning amuck, and smashed the startled and even frightened O'Brien right and left. A terrible wallop to the jaw sent Jack down for the count of nine. In the tenth round the Philadelphia soon went down again and wasn't in any rush about getting up. When he did it was only to be met with another terrific swing, which sent him to the floor again, sprawling and all but unconscious. He was good for a count of a hundred, but when the referee Tim Hurst had reached "six," the bell rang, so the knockout didn't count. The fight was attended by more "howling swells" than ever before or since in New York, and dress suits and chug-chug wagons were much in evidence. Most of the tony sports had planted their kate on O'Brien, but the finish had been so sudden that they were glad to lose their kate. Later in the same year O'Brien and Ketchel fought again, and Jack was knocked cold in the ninth round.

SHE SUFFERED TEN MONTHS

Mrs. Blankenship Tells of Her Restoration to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elliston, Va. — "I feel it my duty to express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a sufferer from female troubles and had been confined in bed over one third of my time for ten months. I could not do my housework and had fainting spells so that my husband could not leave me alone for five minutes at a time.

"Now I have been restored to health and it has come from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Whenever I see a suffering woman I want to tell her what this medicine has done for me and I will always speak a good word for it." — Mrs. ROBERT BLANKENSHIP, Elliston, Va., Montgomery Co.

Was Helpless—Now Well.

Trenton, Mo. — "About two years ago I had female trouble and inflammation so bad that I was literally helpless and had to be tended like a baby. I could not move my body or lift my foot for such severe pains that I had to scream. I was very nervous and had a weakness.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me to such an extent that I think there is no medicine like it for female troubles. I am up and able to do my work again and I give you full permission to publish my letter for the sake of other suffering women." — Mrs. W. T. PURNELL, 320-10th St., Trenton, Mo.

NEW PORTRAITS OF NAPOLEON. During Napoleon's sojourn at St. Helena, General Bessier, Assistant Commissioner-General, and surveyor to the great exile's establishment, made many sketches of the man whose personality continues to be of intense interest to the world. Some of these drawings have been wrongly attributed to George Cruikshank, the famous caricaturist, but it remained for Mr. A. M. Broadley, an English expert to trace the Bessier drawings to their true source. The April Century will publish a paper by Mr. Broadley on "Napoleon's St. Helena Portraits," which will include a number of drawings, now published for the first time.

NEW YORKER INVENTS HOUSE

In Two Sections, With Walls and Roof Hung on Hinges—Quite Easy to Keep Ventilated.

its side walls, while the wooden walls are hinged at the top so that they can be opened at any angle desired, chains holding them in position. In this way ventilation can be obtained and the interior protected from rain or too much light. The upper section, which has a peaked roof, has a door at one end and a series of roosts arranged around the sides and ends on the interior. One-half of the roof is hinged so that it can be kept open or closed. The entire roof can also be slid on or off at will. This arrangement makes it easy to clean the house thoroughly in all parts and keep it well ventilated, thus eliminating insect pests to a great degree.

EX-CONVICT ARRESTED AT HEBRON

Taken Into Custody by Marshal W. D. Leitz on Charge of Using Mails To Defraud.

J. B. Jones, indicted by the federal grand jury at Detroit for using the mails to defraud, was arrested at Hebron Monday night by Federal Detective Matthews and the village marshal, W. D. Leitz. The arrest was made at a boarding house where Jones had arranged to secure room and board during his stay in Hebron.

The specific offense for which Jones was indicted was the sale of stock in alleged fake oil companies, said to be opened up in and around Pindlay, this stock being sold in Michigan. When he landed in Hebron he claimed to be selling life insurance for the Columbia Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Cincinnati.

Marshal Leitz was notified of Jones' intention to come to Hebron and he was on the lookout for the man. He had a good description of him and as soon as he arrived in the village he was spotted by the officer. The federal officers were notified and Detective Matthews was sent to assist the officer in making the arrest.

The detective arrived last night and, accompanied by the marshal, went at once to Jones' room, where he was placed under arrest. Jones made no comment upon being taken into custody and was at once placed in the village lockup.

According to a statement made by the detective last night, Jones has a long record of conflict with the state and national laws. He was first convicted of bigamy in Michigan, having had three wives at the time of his conviction. He served five years for this crime.

Later he was convicted of forgery and served two years of his sentence, when he was released on parole. If he is not prosecuted under the indictment, he will be returned to prison for violation of his parole. Jones was in Newark over Sunday, having registered at the Franklin Hotel. He went to Hebron Monday morning.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist

FORCED FEEDING IN CONSUMPTION INJURIOUS.

It has been customary for several years in sanatoriums to force the feeding of consumptive patients. This is now being changed. "Based upon the erroneous idea of fat being beneficial," says Dr. F. M. Pottenger in Physiologic Therapeutics, "overfeeding was established as one of the essentials in the cure of tuberculosis. I have seen many cases where the effect of overfeeding was finally the cause of the death of the patient. My definition," says this authority on the treatment of tuberculosis, "of a proper diet for a tuberculous patient, is a diet which consists of the smallest amount of food that will maintain him in a high state of nutrition with the expenditure of the least amount of digestive energy, the amount differing with different individuals." This view has been long maintained in these hints, in the treatment of disease in general, and of tuberculosis in particular, in which the practice of high feeding has long been carried to serious excess.

CHAPTER XXXII.

The Judge's Grandson. In that bare upper room they had shared, the judge, crushed and broken, watched beside the bed on which the dead man lay; unconscious of the flight of time he sat with his head bowed in his hands, having scarcely altered his position since he begged those who carried Mahaffy up the narrow stairs to leave him alone with his friend.

He was living over the past. He recalled his first meeting with Mahaffy in the stuffy cabin of the small river packet from which they had later gone ashore at Pleasantville; he thanked God that it had been given him to see beneath Solomon's forbidding exterior and into that starved heart! He reviewed each phase of the almost insensible growth of their intimacy; he remembered Mahaffy's fine true loyalty at the time of his arrest—he thought of Mahaffy's Pythias—Mahaffy had reached the heights of a sublime devotion; he could only feel ennobled that he had inspired it.

At last the dusk of twilight invaded the room. He lighted the candles on the chimney-piece, then he resumed his seat and his former attitude. Suddenly he became aware of a small hand that was resting on his arm and glanced up; Hannibal had stolen quietly into the room. The boy pointed to the still figure on the bed.

"Judge, what makes Mr. Mahaffy lie so quiet—as he dead?" he asked in a whisper.

"Yes, dear lad," began the judge in a shaking voice, as he drew Hannibal toward him, "your friend and mine is dead—we have lost him." He lifted the boy into his lap, and Hannibal pressed a tear-stained lace against the judge's shoulder. "How did you get here?" the judge questioned gently.

"Uncle Bob fetched me," said Hannibal. "He's down stairs, but he didn't tell me Mr. Mahaffy was dead."

"We have sustained a great loss, Hannibal, and we must never forget the moral grandeur of the man. Some day, when you are older, and I can bring myself to speak of it, I will tell you of his last moments." The judge's voice broke, a thick sob rose chokingly in his throat. "Poor Solomon! A man of such tender feeling that he hid it from the world, for his was a rare nature which only revealed itself to the chosen few he honored with his love." The judge lapsed into a momentary brooding silence, in which his great arms drew the boy closer against his heart. "Dear lad, since I left you at Belle Plain a very astonishing knowledge has come to me. It was the Hand of Providence—I see it now—that first brought us together. You must not call me judge any more; I am your grandfather—your mother was my daughter."

Hannibal instantly sat erect and looked up at the judge, his blue eyes wide with amazement at this extraordinary statement.

"It is a very strange story, Hannibal, and its links are not all in my hands, but I am sure because of what I already know. I, who thought that not a drop of my blood flowed in any veins but my own, live again in you. Do you understand what I am telling you? You are my own dear little grandson—" and the judge looked down with no uncertain love and pride into the small face upturned to his.

"I am glad if you are my grandfather, judge," said Hannibal very gravely. "I always liked you."

"Thank you, dear lad," responded the judge with equal gravity, and then as Hannibal nestled back in his grandfather's arms a single big tear dropped from the end of that gentleman's prominent nose.

"There will be many and great changes in store for us," continued the judge. "But as we met adversity with dignity, I am sure we shall be able to endure prosperity with equanimity—only unworthy natures are affected by what is at best superficial and accidental. I mean that the blight of poverty is about to be lifted from our lives."

"Do you mean we ain't going to be pore any longer, grandfather?" asked Hannibal.

The judge regarded him with infinite tenderness of expression; he was profoundly moved.

"Would you mind saying that again, dear lad?"

"Do you mean we ain't going to be pore any longer, grandfather?" repeated Hannibal.

"I shall enjoy an adequate competency which I am about to recover, it will be sufficient for the indulgence of those simple and intellectual tastes I propose to cultivate for the future." In spite of himself the judge sighed. This was hardly in line with his ideals, but the right to choose was no longer his. "You will be very rich Hannibal. The Quintard lands—you grandmother was a Quintard—will be yours; they run up to the hundred of thousands of acres hereabout; this land will be yours as soon as I can establish your identity."

"Will Uncle Bob be rich too?" inquired Hannibal.

"Certainly. How can he be poor when we possess wealth?" answered the judge.

"You reckon he will always live with us, don't you, grandfather?"

"I would not have it otherwise. I admire Mr. Yaney—he is simple and direct, and fit for any company under heaven except that of fools. His treatment of you has placed me under everlasting obligations; he shall share what we have. My one bitter, unavailing regret is that Solomon Mahaffy will not be here to partake of our altered fortunes." And the judge sighed deeply.

"Uncle Bob told me Mr. Mahaffy got hurt in a duel, grandfather?" said Hannibal.

"He was as inexperienced as a child in the use of firearms, and he had to deal with scoundrels who had neither mercy nor generous feeling—but his courage was magnificent."

Presently Hannibal was deep in his account of those adventures he had shared with Miss Betty.

"And Miss Malroy—where is she now?" asked the judge, in the first pause of the boy's narrative.

"She's at Mr. Bowen's house. Mr. Carrington and Mr. Cavendish are here too. Mrs. Cavendish stayed down yonder at the Bates' plantation. Grandfather, it were Captain Murrell who had me stole—do you reckon he was going to take me back to Mr. Bladen?"

"I will see Miss Malroy in the morning. We must combine our interests are identical. There should be help in this for more than one scoundrel! I can see now how criminal my dissimulation to push myself to the front has been," said the judge, with conviction. "Never again will I shrink from what I know to be a public duty."

A little later they went down stairs, where the judge had Yancy make up a bed for himself and Hannibal on the floor. He would watch alone beside Mahaffy, he was certain this would have been the dead man's wish; then he said good night and mounted heavily to the floor above to resume his vigil and his musings.

"WATER KISS" IS SANITARY

Young Chicago Sculptor Conceives Idea of Drinking Fountain in Form of Upright Face.

A sanitary drinking fountain in the form of an upturned sculptured face, from the lips of which the water bubbles as from a bubbling cup, is the idea of a young Chicago sculptor.

The fountain is made of a carved stone or marble chalice, and from the lips each thirsty passer-by may obtain what the young sculptor describes as a "Water Kiss."

The model can be reproduced in plaster, cut in stone or cast in metal, to suit local requirements.

NEW NEWS OF YESTERDAY

Story of Million Dollars That Might Have Been.

Commodore Alfred Van Santvoord's Regret Because He Didn't Make a Quick Turn in St. Paul Stock During Panic of 1901.

By E. J. EDWARDS.

The late Commodore Alfred Van Santvoord, who owed his title to his prominence in the Hudson river steamboat business, (when he died in 1901 he was the largest owner of river steamboats in America), but who was also a very able railroad man, having been a director in several big railroad companies, combined a large amount of caution with a very strong spirit of enterprise. He accumulated in the course of his long and honorable business career a large fortune by constructive work in the transportation business and by wise investment. He was worth seven or eight million dollars when he died. But although he had won success and fortune ample enough to satisfy the ambitions of most men, his last years, as his friends believed, were made somewhat unhappy by a single thought—the thought of the million that might have been his.

Commodore Van Santvoord was a man of large frame and feature, with smooth shaven face and clear, keen gray eyes, a man of great dignity and composure, yet most affable and genial. It was very seldom, indeed, that his customary composure and affability were affected by circumstances.

But at the time of the famous Northern Pacific corner in 1901—when Hill and Harriman were fighting for the control of that system, and the value of Northern Pacific, and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul shares rose several hundred points in a few days, causing one of the worst bear panics on record—Commodore Van Santvoord was observed by his friends to be somewhat restless and distraught. He hung over the ticker in the New York broker's office where he usually went when he wanted to buy or sell stocks, but at this time he seemed to be neither buying or selling.

His friends felt sure that he was not caught in the squeeze, and that he was not threatened with any loss. His operations were always too conservative for that to be likely. Yet it was evident that something was weighing on his mind, and that the stock market situation was absorbing his attention.

The panic was as short as it was severe. The conflicting Hill and Harriman interests were adjusted and stocks dropped back to their normal level far more rapidly than they had risen to their sensational high figure. Commodore Van Santvoord, when the calm came, recovered his composure and affability, but those who knew him well detected an unwonted solemnity in his expression.

"Is any thing the matter? Are you feeling well today, Commodore?" one of his friends asked him, in some concern.

"Oh, I'm feeling all right—that is, my health is good," he replied. "But I'm feeling rather chagrined. As a matter of fact, I feel as though I were out a million dollars by this panic."

"How is that? Do you mean that you have actually lost a million?"

"No, I haven't actually lost a dollar. But I own quite a block of Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul stock. I could have sold it a few days ago at a very high figure, bought it back today at a very low figure, and made a million by the transaction. And I didn't sell it."

"Well, Commodore, what do you want another million for?" his friend asked.

"A man always hates to miss a chance to make a million dollars," he replied, with a laugh that yet had a tinge of sadness in it.

And it was said truly, probably, that he never ceased to regret that he missed this chance.

Pretty Mothers

Health is the foundation of all good looks. The wise woman realizes this and takes precautions to preserve her health and strength through the period of child bearing. She remains a pretty mother by avoiding as far as possible the suffering and dangers of such occasions. This every woman may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

The digging for the Panama Canal is five-sixths completed. The digging was from the beginning a matter of engineering and dollars. It is hoped to get the first ship through the canal by 1913. The problem of future management is likely to prove more complex and difficult than the earlier problems of negotiation, seizure, sanitation and construction. If good luck shall attend the remaining finishing touches the canal will be ready for use before the country is ready to proclaim the manner of its use as an international highway.

Perhaps the last man in this country to declaim against "boss rule" is the man who is fighting for a third term in the Presidency. He owed his nomination to the Vice Presidency on the McKinley ticket to the secret maneuvering of Bosses Quay and Platt and the later concurrent aid of Boss Hanna. No man ever more assiduously followed or improved upon the methods of his masters and discoverers. No boss ever bossed his party or ever undertook to boss the country with a more desperate disregard of political morals.

SCHEDULE K AT LAST.

(New York World.)

The Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee have been slow in reaching Schedule K, but they are wise in concluding to stand by the vetoed bill of the last session.

This will keep the issue clear-cut for the President's reconsideration. It presents no changes on which new excuses for opposition can be based, and the tariff board's report indicated clearly no changes which could make it more acceptable to the President without leaving the schedule as "indefensible" as ever.

By a change to ad valorem duties on wool the bill removes the discriminations of the existing tariff in favor of the combing as against the carded wool manufacturers, and by a radical reduction in rates on wool and wool-lens, only a pretense of protecting American labor suffers, while the people are assured of cheaper and more honest woollen clothing.

If this "indefensible" schedule is to continue indefensible the continuing responsibility should be with the President, where it has been.

FIRST THINGS

The first street railway in New England was opened 56 years ago today, between Boston and Cambridge. The first street railway in America had been opened in Fourth avenue, New York, in 1822. Horses were used as motive power on both the New York and Boston roads. The first iron tramway in the world was that between Croydon and Wandsworth, England, completed in 1801.
London did not get its first street railways until 1861, and in the following year, the house of commons refused to pass a street railway bill, all the lines had to be taken up. It was not until 1870, when street railways were common all over the United States, that the first permanent tramway was constructed in the English metropolis.

NEW YORK STATE FIRST PRIMARIES ARE HELD TODAY

New York's first primary under the new direct nomination law is being held today. Voters of both parties throughout the state are passing on the membership of the state, district and other committees and will name delegates to the state and national conventions. Opinions differ widely as to the merits of the law under which the primary is held. Although Tammany had a finger in the pie in formulating the provisions of the new law, it is understood that there is much dissatisfaction in the wigwam over the size of the ballots to be used and other matters.

Under the provisions of the act,
all the names agreed upon by the regular Democratic and Republican organizations are placed on the official ballot as the "designates" of the parties. Any other names on the ballot such as those of Roosevelt candidates for delegates and committeemen, have to be placed there by petitions containing the signatures of at least five per cent of the enrolled voters of the party in the district.

Col. Roosevelt's opinion of the primary law is far from flattering to its authors. He says:

"In New York the machines of the two parties have co-operated to draw up a primary law which imposes on the people a system so cumbersome, so involved, as to make it impossible to get a fair expression of public sentiment and very difficult to get any expression of public sentiment at all. The present primary law in New York is admirably adapted to achieve its purpose, for its purpose is to prevent the people from controlling party organizations or having their say in party nominations and to preserve such control and such domination purely for the class of professional politicians."

William Barnes Jr., chairman of the New York State Republican committee, entertains quite different views of the working of the primary act. He said recently:

"Delegates from each congressional district will be selected at the primary by a direct vote of nearly half a million enrolled Republicans in the whole state to the national convention to be held in Chicago, and at the state convention to be held in Rochester April 9, four delegates-at-large will be chosen by the vote of the majority of the delegates elected to the state convention at the same primary. There is no doubt whatsoever that the best judgment of the Republican electors of New York will be expressed at that primary and that the convention to be held in Rochester as a result of the primary will reaffirm those principles which in the past have made the Republican party great and powerful."

THE OLD SONGS

The modern airs are cheerful, melodious and sweet, we hear them sung and whistled all day upon the street. Some lifting, jaunty ditty that's rollicking and gay will gain the public favor and hold it—for a day. But when the day is ended, and we are tired and worn, and more than half persuaded that man was made to mourn, how soothing then the music our fathers used to know! The songs of sense and feeling, the songs of long ago! The "Jungle Joe" effusions and kindred roundelays will do to hum or whistle throughout our busy days; and in the garish limelight the yodel-ers may yell and injure songs may flourish—and all is passing well; but when to light the heavens the shingling stars return, and in the cottage windows the lights begin to burn, when parents and their children are seated by the fire, remote from worldly clamor and all the world's desire, when eyes are soft and shining, and the hearts with love aglow, how pleasant is the singing of songs of long ago!

THE PROBLEM OF ROOSEVELT

Talk of a Bolt or an Absolute Withdrawal.

COMMISSIONS IN DEMAND.

Former Speaker Cannon Opposed to Government Engaging in Road Building—Representative Prouty's Slap at John D. Rockefeller—Still Roasting
Dr. Wiley.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 25.—[Special].—
The regular or Taft Republicans alternately talk of a Roosevelt bolt and absolute Roosevelt withdrawal from the race before the Chicago convention meets. The fact that there are so many contesting delegations with the probability that the national committee in making up the temporary roll will in nearly every instance seat the Taft delegates gives rise to the talk of bolting. In fact, some of the Roosevelt men have served notice that the methods heretofore prevailing will not be permitted and that the Taft men might just as well lock up their "steam roller."

As to the Roosevelt withdrawal, that is merely a part of the campaign talk used for discouraging the Roosevelt workers. Perhaps it is used in sarcasm, because there has not been the development of Roosevelt strength which was expected. An offset to such talk is the often repeated statement by the Roosevelt campaign managers that he will be surely nominated.

Commissions Wanted.
There is a greater demand than ever for commissions. Bills are pending for commissions to do everything which the states and local communities ought to do for themselves; for investigations of all kinds; inquiries into this and that mode of life and business. In fact, there seems to be no limit to the number or character of commissions wanted. Most of this agitation comes from people who think they have become experts in some line and desire to become attached to the government payroll as commissioner to work out their theories. In the course of each session one or more of these commissions or bureaus are established.

Black Dirt Highways.
Former Speaker Cannon does not take kindly to the proposition to have the government engage in road building. Cannon has had some experience in river and harbor legislation and public buildings and knows that a road building omnibus bill would tax the resources of the government. "Thank God I am not called a Democrat," he exclaimed with great fervor the other day, "but I am a better Democrat for the preservation of local self government than any man who wants to enter upon the building of roads over 3,000 miles of country. We have only 60,000 miles of black dirt highways in Illinois—not much, but we have built them ourselves and have not called upon the national treasury for aid."

Prouty Amuses the House.
Congressman Prouty of Iowa entertained and amused the house in a speech he made on the excise tax bill.
Advancing one proposition about the average citizen paying more to support the government than John D. Rockefeller, Prouty said "I am going to stand on that proposition until some one knocks me down with a bad fact."
"Why, John D.," he said further along, "has most of the clothes for himself and wife made in Paris, which he brings in free of duty, and I see by the papers that the last time he was in Paris he bought enough wigs to last him the rest of his life."

He had several fits with Congressman Jackson of Kansas.

No Letup on Wiley.
Dr. Wiley's resignation as chief of the bureau of chemistry has made no difference in regard to the criticisms of him by his opponents. He is still the target for a large number of people who say he has interfered with their food and drug business.

"The Answer Was Vague."

Nick Longworth was making an argument against the excise tax bill, claiming that it would not touch millions of incomes because it taxed business and that much money was received by persons who were not in business. He said he put this question to a Democratic member:

"Supposing a woman secures a divorce from her husband and is allowed under the decision of the court $10,- 000 a year alimony, is she compelled to pay a tax under this bill for doing business and, if so, what kind of business?"

"The answer was vague," asserted
Longworth.

"The question was vague," declared
Shackelford of Missouri.

His Second Choice.
Congressman Fowler of Illinois told a political story in the house. It was about a man in Missouri who had been elected judge and being up for re-election met a colored politician who had been largely responsible for his first election and said: "Hello, Sam; glad to see you. I'm depending upon you to carry the colored vote for me this year." "Youse my second choice," replied the colored man. The judge, quite anxiously inquired who was his first choice. "My first choice," replied
the negro, "is anybody to bent youse."

Honored by Women
When a woman speaks of her silent secret suffering she trusts you. Millions have be-towed this mark of confidence on Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. Everywhere there are women who bear witness to the wonder-working, curing power of Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription
—which saves the suffering sex from pain, and successfully grapples with women's weaknesses and stubborn ills.
IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG
IT MAKES SICK WOMEN WELL.
No woman's appeal was ever misdirected or her confidence misplaced when she wrote for advice, to the Women's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr.
R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce mild natural bowel movement once a day.

INTEREST IS INCREASING

The evangelistic services at the First M. E. church are growing in interest. The attendance last night was good and Dr. Oborn preached the best sermon since being in the city, his theme being "The Baptism of the Holy Ghost." In part Dr.
Oborn said:

"Close the churches and blot out all Christian influence in Newark and your property will not be worth 25 cents on the dollar tomorrow night."
"Heathenism and superstition prevail where Christianity is not."
"It is the baptism of fire that sends the missionary to the darkest corners of heathenism; that sends the deaconess into the slums of our cities; that sends the pioneer minister to the remotest bounds of civilization; that inspires men to found colleges, build hospitals and church colleges, and build hospitals and churches."

"We can substitute most anything but fire. Men will pass the most beautiful base burner, if it has no fire in it, and go to the old rusty box stove if they can find there what they need; so will the masses pass by the most magnificent churches if they lack fire, and go to the little mission church to warm their souls."

Tonight Dr. Oborn will preach on "Sowing Seed for the Devil."
Special arrangements are being made by the Christian Men's Union to have Dr. Oborn deliver his sermon-lecture, "Wishbone or Backbone," to a mass meeting of men at the First M. E. church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Prof. Ball is succeeding in getting the congregation to join heartily in the singing. He will also direct the songs by the men next Sunday afternoon.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

THE CRAZY PREACHER OF KENT.

By A. W. MACY.

For twenty years John Ball,
"the crazy preacher of Kent," harangued the people, in season and out, wherever he could get an audience. He had but one text, and from that he always preached:

"When Adam delv'd and Eve
spun,

Who then was the gentleman?"

On this he rung the changes, but always keeping to the front the equality of men.
Nothing daunted him. In spite of ridicule and prison cells and whippings, he kept on preaching. Not until Wm. Tyler's rebellion collapsed and his own head was cut off, did he stop.
Four hundred years later the doctrine he preached was incorporated in the American Declaration of Independence.

HEART AND HOME TALKS
BY BARBARA BOYD

Earning Money at Home.

ANY woman has at some time in her adventurous career, re-upholstered an old chair, re-covered an old sofa, or done some work of this sort, to her utmost satisfaction. Some women have a knack for such work, and the woman who has, can turn it to the making of an extra dollar or two, for herself.

If she will let it be known among her friends and neighbors that she will do work of this kind, she will undoubtedly get many orders. And if her work is satisfactory and her charges moderate, news of what she is doing, will soon spread and her business will increase. For, in almost every home are pieces of furniture the worse for wear. But the housewife thinks it will cost too much to fix them up, or else lets the weeks slip by while she is making up her mind to hunt up an upholsterer, or send them to a store.

If now, a trustworthy woman is at hand who will relieve the housekeeper of all this bother, who may be able to use material on hand, or who will buy economically, if necessary, she would undoubtedly get many such an odd job. A woman as a rule is more used to economizing than a man, and, if expense must be considered, she is more likely to suggest ways to recover the furniture inexpensively than a man. She would be more willing to pinch and save. And for this very reason, many a housewife would give such a piece of work to a woman, when she would not to a regular upholsterer.

Then, a woman who undertook this kind of business could consult with her customers as to any piece of furniture they might want, and then she could attend auction sales, pick up for a small price the article in question, no matter how shabby and worn it might be, fix it up and sell it at a profit to herself, and yet for much less than what the customer would have to pay for it in the shops.

Then again, the woman who did such work could make window-seat upholsteries for the housewife who had no knack for doing such things herself, and could not afford the prices of the professional interior decorator. She could make also dainty bedroom sets of bedspread, bureau scarf, stand cover, or whatever might be wanted. If she would study stenciling, and it is not difficult to learn, she could make many dainty, artistic things for the home, which many a beauty-loving home woman would be only too glad to get, but whose cost in the shops is beyond her purse.

Such work will open up in many ways for the woman who likes it, and who puts her mind upon it. And as in almost every home, there is work of this kind waiting to be done, if it does not cost too much, here is a field of work ripe for harvesting.

Barbara Boyd

Kendall, Robert Myers, Sylvester Myers. At a late hour the guests departed, wishing Mrs. Myers many more happy birthday anniversaries.

The Monday Talks held the last regular meeting of the year on the club day of this week and the following program was given:

What a Modern Audience Likes—Mrs. Helen Franklin.

The Present and the Future—Mrs. Seymour.

A Modern Quest for Pure Food—Mrs. Roerich Jones.

VINTEAU-TRIFF.

Vasile Vinteanu and Florence Triff, foreigners, living in this city, were married by Squire George W. Horton on Saturday at his office over the First National bank.

BODLE-WETHERS.

Homer Bodle and Mrs. Emma J. Wethers, both of this city, were married Monday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Justice Jones at his office at 1:10 o'clock in the presence of a number of witnesses. The newly married couple will live in Newark.

Remarkable Escape.

He was talking very loudly and boastfully in the railway carriage and compelling everyone to hear him, whether they wanted to or not.

"I've been all over Europe in my time. To France a score of times; Italy, Germany, Spain, everywhere. What I don't know about them isn't worth knowing. Why, I've been to Egypt, and I've been to Constantinople ten times at least. Funny thing, now, the way the dogs are scavengers there, and eat everything in the streets. Awfully dangerous to touch 'em. They eat up every scrap of rubbish."

A young lady in the corner said, thoughtfully, "I really wonder you got home alive."

And presently a blessed silence reigned in that carriage.

NO WORDS WASTED.

A Swift Transformation Briefly Described.

About food, the following brief but emphatic letter from a Georgia woman goes straight to the point and is convincing.

"My frequent attacks of indigestion and palpitation of the heart culminated in a sudden and desperate illness, from which I arose enfeebled in mind and body. The doctor advised me to live on cereals, but none of them agreed with me until I tried Grape-Nuts food and Postum.

"The more I used of them the more I felt convinced that they were just what I needed; and in a short time they made a different woman of me. My stomach again felt trouble disappeared as if by magic, and my mind was restored and is as clear as it ever was.

"I gained flesh and strength so rapidly that my friends were astonished. Postum and Grape-Nuts have benefited me so greatly that I am glad to bear this testimony."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's the reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

To Reduce Weight.

Another reduction diet is fresh green salads and two quarts of hot water daily. No water with meals.

An exclusive meat diet would not be advisable, although one meal each day may consist of meat, lettuce salad, and fruit; or meat, potato and fruit. A breakfast of cereal and fruit might accompany this dinner, but this variety is not strictly in accord with the one-article diet. It does not give the extreme monotony in which the secret of the miracle lies. Instead of rice, potatoes, cereals, or macaroni, we may have purée of peas or beans. They contain more proteins than meat.—Harper's Bazar.

TO REMOVE FIRST SIGNS OF OLD AGE.

"The infallible first sign of age is the sagging cheek muscles," says Mme. Cavallieri, whose fame as a beauty culturist is scarcely less than that of a singer. "These are more difficult and serious to treat than wrinkles," she continues. "The sagging muscles indicate they have grown too weak to remain in place; they must be assisted, strengthened."

The best way to strengthen them is by using a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxonite in a half pint witch hazel. This creates a freer circulation to the parts, besides causing muscles and skin to contract. Saxonite, procurable at every drug store, has long been known by complexion specialists to possess remarkable properties, valuable in treating flabby tissue and wrinkles.

AT HOME.

Where burns the fireside brightest,

Cheering the social breast?

Where beats the fond heart lightest,

Its humblest hopes possessed?

Where is the hour of sadness,

With meek-eyed patience borne,

Worth more than those of gladness.

Which mirth's gay cheeks adorn?

Pleasure is marked by fleetness

To those who ever roam,

While grief itself has sweetness

At home—sweet home.

Air Required by Person.

The air required by a person at hard work has been supposed to be not more than 0.6 to 0.7 cubic foot per minute, but Bernhard Draeger, inventor of a breathing apparatus for use in mines, has made some recent experiments showing that this supply is insufficient. Tests were made with three individuals, the air exhaled being measured by a spirometer, or special gasometer. The air breathed per minute, in cubic feet, was found to average for a person sitting down, 0.3; after a walk of 1,000 feet, 0.4; after marching over 2,000 feet, 0.6; after lifting heavy weights, 1.25; after racing over a distance of 800 feet, 1.8. The curious observation was made that for a few seconds during work or directly after, the air taken is always much more than the normal amount, the momentary increase reaching the rate of more than 3.5 cubic feet per second.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving $2 and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of an obstinate cough more quickly, usually ending it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for croup, whooping cough, sore lungs, asthma, hoarseness and other throat troubles. Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This is just laxative enough to help cure a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in quassal and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe is now used by thousands of housewives throughout the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

What Happened
To a Dull
Scissors Blade

"This Blade Needs Sharpening"

"Once upon a time," began daddy idly as he picked up a pair of scissors which Evelyn had dropped as she snipped the knot in her shoestring.

"Once upon a time there was a pair of scissors. When they were bright and shining from the shop the blades were fine workers, but after awhile the right blade said to the left:

"See here, seem's to me I do most of the work."

"That sounds just like Evelyn!" cried Jack mischievously.

"If you interrupt me I can't tell my story," warned daddy. "Let me see, I was saying that the right blade of the scissors complained that it did most of the work. 'Whenever we cut a piece of cloth,' went on the right blade, 'I have to snip, snip, against the heavy stuff, and you do just nothing at all.' 'Oh, yes, I do!' insisted the left one. 'I work just as busily as you do.' 'Nonsense,' cried the other; 'any one can see how my blade flashes through the air.'"

"Brother, you are very unfair to me," the left blade went on. "Sometimes one of us flashes above the cloth and sometimes one of us works out of sight underneath it. It all depends on the will of the cutter, whom we must obey."

"Obey if you choose!" cried the right blade haughtily. "As for me, I've had enough work for awhile. Now I'm going to take a rest."

"When the scissors were needed again the cutter found one of the blades very stiff and dull."

"It's very odd," she said. "They are really quite new scissors. Perhaps these blades are not good steel. I'll ask the knife and scissors grinder about them when he comes along."

"The man looked at the scissors. 'Why, madam, these are very good steel,' he said, 'but this blade needs sharpening, and the screw in the center should be a little looser. Shall I fix them for you?'

"He laid the right blade to his grindstone and turned the wheel. It whizzed and whirled, fanning the scissors until they were almost stunned. The blade fairly shrieked with pain."

"Then the man got out a screwdriver, and he wrenched at the screw that held the two blades together."

"I think they will work now," he said as he handed them back to their owner.

"A piece of heavy cloth was got out, and the right blade fairly raced through the cloth, he was so afraid of going back on that cruel wheel."

"Thank you," said the cutter, giving the scissors grinder some money. "I think my scissors will be all right now."

"But she hadn't any cause to complain of their dullness after that terrible grinding."

CHILDREN INJURED

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which we know, for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night, do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents and 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Newark only at our store—The Rexall Store, F. D. Hall, 10 N. Side Square.

ITCHING PREVENTS SLEEP

ECZEMA SUFFERERS COULD HAVE COMFORT TONIGHT.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Many persons around here suffer so much from eczema that they cannot sleep at night. Sometimes the terrible itching does not begin until bedtime. Babies and young children not only suffer greatly but their crying keeps parents and others awake.

Applying a little Saxon Salve our new skin remedy, would quiet the itching right away and permit sleep, and still better, it is so reliable a remedy that it soon heals the eruption and leaves the skin smooth. Remarkable improvement is soon seen. In all kinds of eczema, salt rheum, tetter, barber's itch, etc., etc. Saxon Salve has wonderful healing power because it penetrates the skin-pores and destroys the germs at the very seat of the disease.

We give back your money if Saxon Salve does not satisfy you perfectly. F. D. Hall, druggist, Newark, O.

Notes.

In the month of October we had 263 cases of tardiness, and the number reported this month is 151. This is the lowest number for any month, and I believe that by persistent efforts we can still reduce this number until tardiness is practically eliminated from the schools. It will be noted that while we have the least tardiness this month we also have the best attendance, dispelling of the argument that by insisting on absence. It has been my observation that as tardiness decreases the attendance becomes better. Last month we had 31 schools that reported no tardiness, and this month we have 42. These schools are taught by the following teachers: Carr, Lawhead, Place, Brennstuhl, Lawyer, Dambach, Swanson, Eberhart, Daly, A. Frye, Bradstock, Anderson, Robinson, Decker, McMillen, Myer, McDonough, Algeo, Gorbey, Stinger, Henry, Adam, Mrs. Browne, Cagney, B. Jones, Avey, Fitzpatrick, Stuart, Murphy, Dicken, Dunston, J. Browne, Gilbert, Watkins, Pigg, Wulfoop, F. Frye, Stadden, Lyon and Richhorn.

The following teachers reported an attendance of 95 per cent or above: High school, 95; Wulfoop, 95; Richhorn, 95; Pigg, 95; Dunston, 95; J. Browne, 95; Fitzpatrick, 95; McNealy, 95; McMahon, 95; Murphy, 95; Van Horn, 95; Armstrong, 95; Besuden, 95; Pugh, 97; Stinger, 97; Adam, 96; Williams, 95; Cagney, 96; B. Jones, 97; Avey, 98; McMillen, 97; Latimer, 96; Gorbey, 95; Kilpatrick, 98; A. Frye, 95; Simms, 96; Hight, 98; A. Frye, 95; Bradstock, 95; Newman, 98; Stadden, 95; Robinson, 95; Kammerer, 96; Johnson, 95; Lawhead, 95; Copeland, 95; Place, 96; Hawke, 96; Brennstuhl, 99; Lawyer, 96; Dambach, 96.

A Fine Record. South Third building, Miss Wulfoop principal, reports no tardiness for the entire building. This is the first time we have had a whole building without tardiness.

We had 169 visitors in the schools during the month and I am glad to say that 82 visits were made by parents.

Teachers made 79 visits to the homes of children and since the opening of school 425 such visits have been made. I want to endorse this and recommend it to all the teachers.

On April 25, Dr. W. C. Bagley, head of the department of education in the University of Illinois, will lecture to teachers. More definite announcements will be made later.

Arbor Day. Owing to the backwardness of the season and to the late arrival of the Arbor Day Manuals, it has been decided to hold Arbor Day exercises on Friday, April 19. A committee of the Board of Trade will work in conjunction with the schools. I am sure that every teacher and principal will join in this celebration in so far as practicable. Further announcements will be made.

The Closing Months. There are but ten more weeks of school. Frequently interest on the part of pupils and teachers begins to lag as the warm weather presents itself. Now is the time when we must all put forth a special effort in order to prevent this. As the weather grows nicer the school attendance and interest ought to grow better. Let us try to make the last months the best months.

A Word to Parents. Teachers and superintendents will appreciate it if parents will give special attention to the attendance of the children for the remainder of the year. Many children have been saved from failure if kept in school regularly up to the close. Teachers are now considering the promotion of the children. Much review work will be done. Parents should make it a point to have the children in school every day possible.

PAID PENALTY FOR MURDERS
Marysville, Mo., March 26. — Fox Rasco, murderer of the Hubbel family of four, was hanged in the Jefferson county jail at 6 a. m. today. He protested his innocence on the scaffold. Rasco murdered Mr. and Mrs. Odia Hubbel and two small children on Nov. 21, 1910. He then set fire to the house to cover the crime. The motive assigned for Rasco committing the deed was that he endeavored to recover money lost to Hubbel during a poker game.

PLANS ADOPTED TO FINANCE NEW MASONIC TEMPLE

At a meeting of the trustees of the Newark Masonic Council held on Monday evening, the financial question was taken up and arrangements made to see every member of the order in the city within a short time. The plan adopted for the financing of the Temple becomes more popular as its object is better known. The fact that no one is asked to give anything toward the building of the Temple, but that every pledge made is an investment which will draw interest, is meeting with general approval. It gives to each investor a personal and financial interest in the Temple, and will add much to the interest of Masonry.

SAVE THE HAIR

Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It.

No woman should have poor, thin, scraggy hair, and no man need become bald. Poor hair and final baldness are due to the dandruff germ. Newbro's Herpicide will destroy this little germ and stop the hair from falling. Further evidence of this is found in a letter from Mrs. F. Neelsen of Tomah, Wis. She says: "I fought the worst kind of dandruff for nine years. I have been using Herpicide now for one week, and my scalp is healthy, the dandruff has gone and the itching has stopped. It is the best remedy for scalp disease I ever saw, and I have seen many."

Don't subject yourself to disappointment and expense by accepting something claimed to be "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. These off brands may possibly be good, but why take chances? The genuine and original dandruff germ destroyer can always be obtained. If your own druggist has nothing but "just as good" articles, go to W. A. Brian & Son, who will furnish you with Newbro's Herpicide and guarantee one dollar size bottles. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Send 10c in postage or silver for sample or booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R, Detroit, Mich.

Applications at good barber shops.

The use of firearms is very extensive in Spain. Hunting is so popular that 20,000,000 empty sporting cartridges were imported into Spain last year, and of these 2,300,000 entered the port of Valencia alone.

A SHARP WARNING

Nervous Exhaustion Is Notice to Relieve the Strain and Build Up the Starved Nerves.

Nervous exhaustion, or breakdown of the nerves, is more often a blessing than anything else. The nerves have rebelled and you should be thankful it is no worse than it is. Let it serve as a sharp warning to relieve the strain and to take a treatment that will build up your nerves.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a real nerve tonic. They supply plenty of nourishing red blood to the exhausted nerves and do not excite and urge them on to do work which they have already shown they cannot do. Medicines which whip on the tired nerves do more harm than no medicine at all. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People not only start in immediately to give relief but continue to strengthen the nerves until they are able to do their work once more.

Mrs. H. G. Williams, of No. 112 North Franklin street, Saginaw, Mich., says: "Nervousness in my case was doubtless due to worry and overwork. I merely felt tired out, weak, restless and nervous. Nervous spells came on me whenever I had any extra strain. There were no additional symptoms in my case but as I was conducting my store all alone and there was considerable detail connected with it, it is not to be wondered at that I was nervous. An old lady friend, who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People with good results in her family, told me to try them for nervousness. I did so. My nerves became steadier and I was cured. I can recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People as a splendid nerve tonic. I have used them for years whenever run down and found they gave me immediate relief."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are guaranteed to be free from any harmful or habit-forming drugs. They have given the most gratifying results in nervous headaches, neuralgia, nervous dyspepsia, St. Vitus' dance, and even in partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia. For a full statement of this treatment write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

BABE BURNED TO DEATH.

Fremont, O., March 26. — The clothes of Lottie Perry, 15 months old, caught fire when she was playing with her brothers near a stove. She was burned to death.

DENISON BASE BALL PLAYERS READY FOR WORK

Granville, March 26. — The young men of Denison who think they are capable of playing ball are beginning to get restless and are anxious to display their prowess on the field. Thus far, however, there has been no regular practice, on account of the muddy condition of Beaver Field, but it is thought that by the latter part of the week the grounds will be dry enough to permit of them being used. From the work of last year's Freshman team it looks like Schwegman and Knouff would do the twirling this season. Schwegman is a southpaw, has perfect control and is a hard man to hit, while Knouff delivers the ball with his right arm and puts all kinds of speed behind it. All of last season's infield, consisting of Forsythe, Hewins, "Pee-dee" Morrow and Deeter, are on the job again, while Tony Morrow and Schropp are new and likely candidates. The outfield will be entirely new. Hott, who played behind the bat a great part of last season, will be a candidate, while Miller, Prouty, Pfeiffer and Barney will try for the gardens. The season will open in Granville with Otterbein on Saturday, April 27. The Denison team is scheduled for two games with Ohio State, one of which will be played in Granville.

ORCHARD PRUNING DEMONSTRATION

J. H. Gourley of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, will give an orchard pruning and spraying demonstration at the farm of A. A. Brooke, at Alexandria, April 3, at 1 p. m. Every one interested in the subject of fruit growing is cordially invited to be present. The meeting will be held in the orchard, if the weather permits, and those who attend will be given a practical demonstration of how fruit trees should be pruned and when and how to spray for such insects as San Jose scale, scurfy scale and codling moth. Questions will be answered.

This will be an excellent opportunity to get practical information on orcharding. This meeting will be free to all.

RESTING PLACE OF TOM JONES

Noted Sculptor Sleeps in Granville Cemetery—News of the Village and Vicinity.

Granville, March 26.—In the old Granville cemetery where so many heroes of the early wars and pioneer residents of Granville sleep, there is one that will always be a household word with the people of Granville—Tom Jones, the sculptor. „Poor Tom Jones,” the sculptor, died in Columbus, and was brought here for burial among the scenes of his childhood. Near the summit of the old burial ground is his resting place, his monument, a huge granite boulder, his own device, with the simple inscription, as shown: „T. D. Jones, sculptor, 12-12-1811.” His father, a farmer, had several sons. He gave each the middle name of David. The best known work of Tom Jones is the Lincoln Memorial, which for many years has stood in the rotunda of the State House at Columbus, for which he was commissioned by the Ohio Monument Association. It was unveiled January 19, 1870, and is fourteen feet in height. Tom Jones was an inspired stone cutter. He sculptured more busts of our eminent men, such as Chase, Seward, Lincoln, etc., than probably any other artist, and his work was masterly. He was an amusing, interesting talker, enjoyed a good laugh, and was replete with anecdotes of the noted characters whom he had for sitters and whose lips he managed to unseal for the outpouring of words of wisdom and humanity.

Charles Thornton and family of this place, have moved on to their farm, recently purchased from Mr. Cooperider. The farm is better known as the Metcalf, or Thornton farm, and is located about two miles east of the village on Jug street.

H. M. S. „Pinafore” or „The Lass That Bowed a Sailor,” a comic opera, in two acts, will be presented by the Denison Conservatory of Music on Friday evening, April 12 at the Town Hall. The principals and choruses have been at work for several weeks, and judging from the progress that has already been made a fine treat is in store for all who attend the entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith have moved into their new home lately owned by A. L. Peters, on West Broadway.

Miss Carrie Holcomb, a charming young woman of Belleville, O., is visiting Miss Bessie Williamson here for a few days.

Many friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. Ben Jones, who has been quite sick at her home in the Welsh Hills for some time, is now considerably improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wright left for Mt. Clemons, Mich., Monday, where Mr. Wright will undergo treatment for sciatic rheumatism, he having been a great sufferer the greater part of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Yingling, who have been occupying the property belonging to Joseph Fosdick, have moved into the Frank Reese property on College street.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Nelson of Marion, O., who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Reese, north of town for several days, have returned home, after having made a most enjoyable visit.

Mrs. Reuben King of Huntington, Pa., Mrs. Robert Boyer and son, Robert of Cordova, Alaska, will make an extended visit in the village.

TRINITY CHURCH CROWDED TO HEAR DR. J. G. ROBINSON

Praised City of Newark About Dealing With Lynchers—Says Nation is Taught Lesson.

Trinity A. M. E. church was crowded last night to hear Dr. J. G. Robinson the colored evangelist from Bellefontaine. There were as many white people as colored present. Dr. Robinson used for his text Romans 6:23, „For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ, our Lord.”

He said: „Sin has an ugly face. Sin has a hellish purpose. Sin wrecks, ruins and causes eternal teeth grinding and soul anguish. Sin makes a man crawl, when God meant that he should stand upright. Sin makes an imp out of God's highest creation, when the Creator designed that man should be associated with him in the affairs of Heaven. If a mother and a father are eager for their child to be pure and strong and intelligent, they need to know something about the law of life and the result of disobeying it.

A man who sins, puts up his own sign over the highest and best highways of life: „No entering here.” There is no ray of light for the man who has gone the way of sin all his days. Sin blights your character, and even puts cities in disrepute. „I want to pause long enough,” said Dr. Robinson, „to weave a scrap and pin it on the bosom of Newark for teaching this nation a lesson in dealing with lynching—one of the greatest evils of this nation. Newark should be lifted up and put in Atlanta, then in Memphis, and Mobile and New Orleans and other Southern cities where my people have been lynched like so many beasts, and show those people what to do with people who lynch their fellowmen. Newark's good people—God fearing people, have made the world admire this community.”

Now, you should get rid of your saloons, and your dance halls. Dancing seems to be a popular practice by many members of this church. Well sir, if I were your pastor, I would visit you one day with my Bible and pray with you and ask you as a church member to quit dancing, and if you didn't stop, the next day I would visit you with my discipline and expel you from the church. No dancing, whisky drinking, lying, church-law breaking member can stay in a church where I am pastor. I dismissed one hundred and fifty-three members in one night in Dayton while I was pastor there.

I had rather take my little bright eyed girl now at Wilberforce, and thrust here into a den of rattlesnakes and see her die there and know that her spirit goes to God pure, than to see her lose her character and her soul on the ball-room floor.”

Dr. Robinson's wife who he says, is a very sweet singer, is expected to be present and sing „Shadows,” „The Sparrow,” etc., tonight.

Dr. Robinson will speak tonight on the „End of a Rebellious Man.”

On motion it was resolved that the officers and chairmen of the various committees comprise an executive committee.

The necessity of a street railroad in that section of the city was discussed at considerable length, and active steps will be taken in the near future to get an extension of the electric railway.

The question of the boundary lines of this section of the city was discussed and there being no definite information as to what territory was included, it was decided to make the Fifth ward boundaries the territorial line. This will include all those people living west of North Fourth street, north of Granville to the creek up to the west and north corporation lines.

All people living in the territory are urged to meet at the school house on Friday evening of this week, when the committees will be ready to report.

Mrs. William Kellenberger, who has been instrumental in forming a number of the civic improvement associations in the city, and who has always taken great interest in the matter, was present and gave an interesting talk along the lines of how other organizations had been formed and of the great work they are accomplishing in other parts of the city.

Addresses pertinent to the point were made by E. C. Wright, Superintendent Wilson Hawkins, Mrs. Glancy, F. S. Wright, H. T. Moninger, O. J. Barnes, W. G. Russell, J. A. Tait and others.

A committee to assist the chairman in naming committees was appointed, consisting of E. C. Wright, Q. J. Barnes and Mrs. E. Hess.

This committee retired and after consulting together for a few minutes, returned and made the following report:

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal, if a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed.

Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance.

The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

It is a liquid laxative- tonic, mild, and never gripes, is effective on robust people and can be given with safety to an infant. Children like it because of these gentle qualities and because it is pleasant to the taste.

It is the best all-around remedy you can have in the house for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, and many people like Mr. Thos. C. Ayer, 412 S. Grove St., Bowling Green, Ohio, and LaFayette Decker, 605 G. St., Findlay, Ohio, say they would as soon be without the necessities as without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

HARRY KUNKLE TO MANAGE THE WINCHESTER CLUB

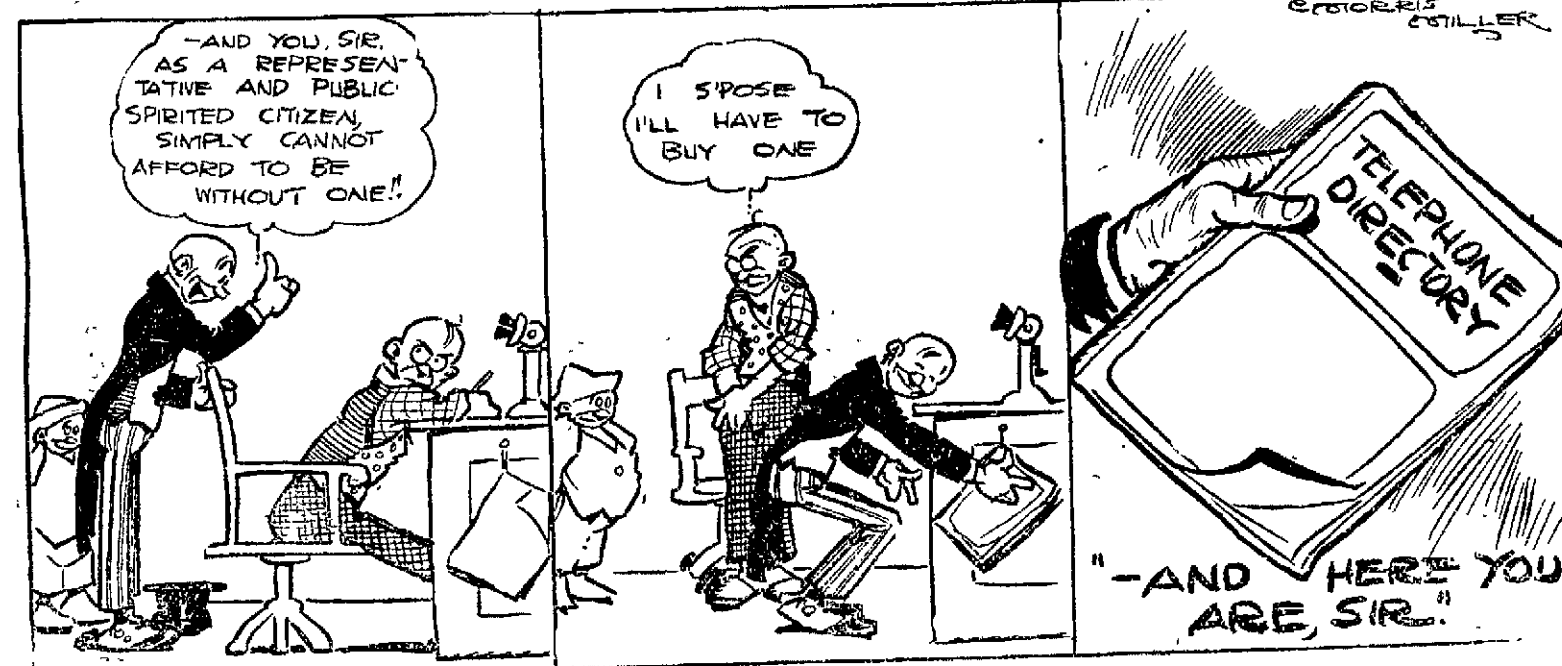

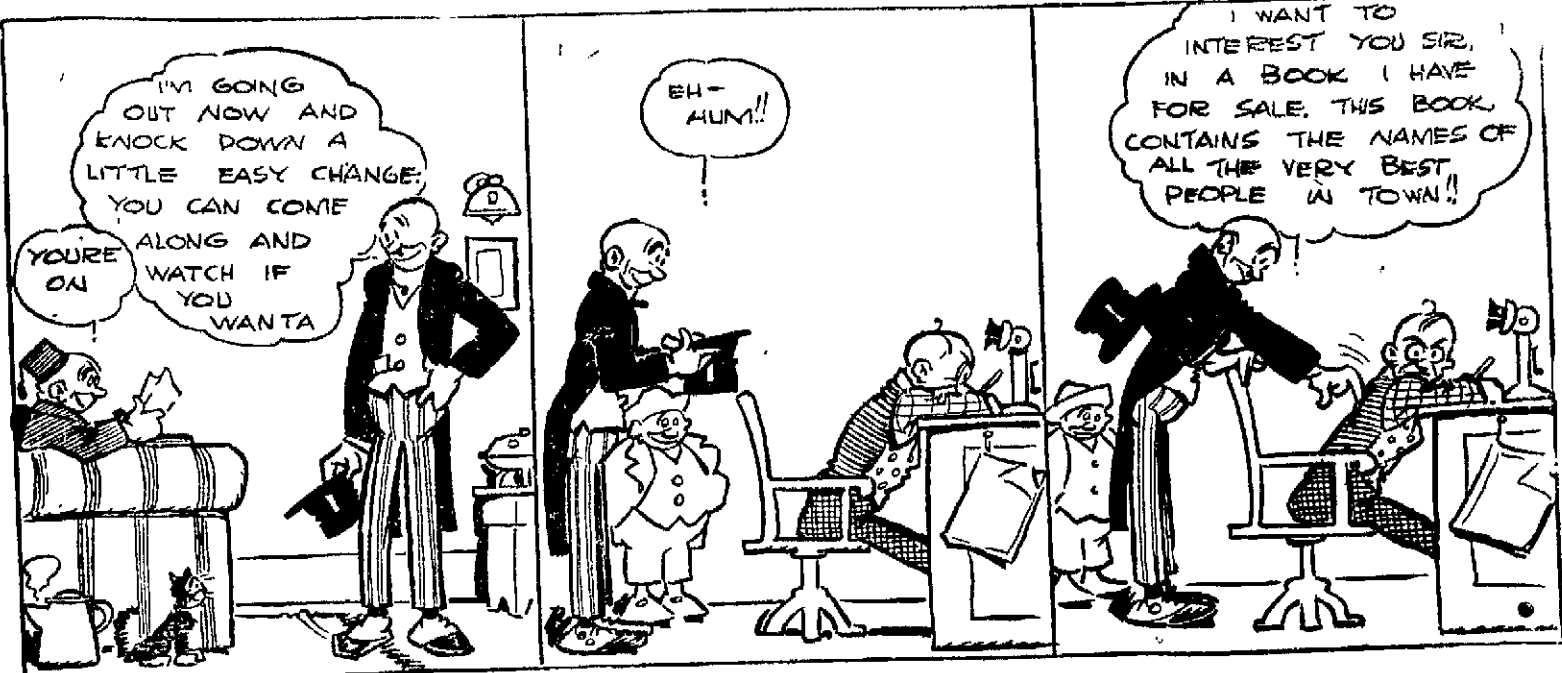

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Winchester team of the Blue Grass league, Harry Kunkle of Hamilton was chosen manager of the team. Kunkle caught for the Hamilton State League team the first part of last year, but was let out when Paterson took charge of the club.

Kunkle immediately went to Winchester, where he finished the season and made the best record of any catcher in that league. With his years of experience behind him, Kunkle ought to make an excellent manager.

Kunkle is well known in Newark, having played here with various visiting teams for several years, in fact, almost since Newark has been in organized baseball.

Wedding Presents.

Wedding presents have for years been a trial both to the donors who cannot think what to send and to the recipients who are compelled to accept what they do not like. A bright notion would be to have a collection at the church (in a bag, not a plate) for the benefit of the young couple, to which each friend might contribute the amount of money he would have spent on a perhaps unappreciated offering. This would save him the terrible worry of choosing something suitable, and the bride and bridegroom the hypocrisy of being grateful for articles they would rather have been without. Shopkeepers would no longer be called upon to supply wares which appear to cost more than they do, and affection and incomes would cease to be estimated by the value of the gifts they produce, since the latter would be anonymous.

JUDGE HUNTER CANDIDATE FOR A SECOND TERM

To Licking County Voters:

The fact has been brought to my attention that some people living in Newark and in the country are under the impression that I am a candidate for a third term as Probate Judge. To correct this impression, this statement of facts is made:

After the death of Judge Brister, Governor Harmon tendered me the appointment of the probate judgeship. This was on October 14, 1910. The appointment was for a little less than four weeks. I became a candidate for the office at the next election, on November 8, 1910, and was elected. I have been elected but once and have but once been a candidate. I am now a candidate for my second term and if the conduct of the office during my first term has been satisfactory to the people, as I have reason to believe it is, I shall appreciate the support of the voters of Licking county in my candidacy for a second term.

The primary election day is May 21, 1912. I respectfully solicit your support. Should the Democratic electors favor me with the nomination for a second term, I shall continue to give the business of the office personal and careful attention to the best of my ability.

Respectfully,
ROBBINS HUNTER.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. J. T. Curtis, Dwight, Kan. He writes: "I not only have cured bad cases of eczema in my patients with Electric Bitters, but also cured myself by them of the same disease. I feel sure they will benefit any case of eczema." This shows what thousands have proved, that Electric Bitters is a most effective blood purifier. It cures eczema, eruptions for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Price 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by F. D. Hall.

DETAILS OF MERGER NOT YET ANNOUNCED

The General Electric company has bought the Holophane Glass company's rights to manufacture and sell Holophane reflectors and will also consolidate with the Postoria Glass Specialty company, which manufactures ornamental lighting glassware, but to date the details of the merger are not announced.

The published announcement in Monday's Advocate was not surprising to many people, who for some time have known that some form of reorganization was contemplated, but nobody here can be found to throw additional light on the transaction.

An effort to obtain a statement from the General Electric company's officials at Schenectady and in New York City has so far failed.

It is known, however, that the contract between the Holophane company and the A. H. Heisey company has been broken, and that the latter is not probable that any change will be made in the manufacturing department before the expiration of that working agreement, if then.

The Holophane company has a splendid organization and it may be that the offices will not be disturbed or removed from Newark.

The advantages of Newark as a manufacturing point will be placed before the General Electric company and every effort will be made to induce the company not only to continue the present plant in operation but to increase the local output.

PHYSICIAN ADVISES CUTICURA REMEDIES

For Eczema, Patient's Wrist and Shin Itched Like Poison. Scratched Until They Bled, Says: "Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Me."

"Four years ago I had places break out on my wrist and on my shin which would itch and burn by spells, and scratching them would not seem to give any relief. When the trouble first began, my wrist and shin itched like poison. I would scratch those places until they would bleed before I could get any relief. After a while the places would scale over, and the skin underneath would look red and feverish. Sometimes it would break out in blisters. I tried many different remedies, but nothing seemed to do any good. I got the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Pills, and they seemed to be just what I needed."

"The disease was making great headway on my system until I got the Cuticura Remedies. From the time I started using them, I have never felt any of its pest, and I am thankful to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment which certainly cured me. I always use the Cuticura Soap for toilet, and I hope other sufferers from skin diseases will use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Irvon Hutchinson, Three Rivers, Mich., Mar. 16, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp, will be sent free, on application to Peppercorn & Chem. Corp., Dept. 17A, Boston.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skilled chemists better than we could do it ourselves; and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing Sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

This preparation gives youthful color and beauty to the hair, and is one of the best remedies you can use for dandruff, dry, feverish, itching scalp, and falling hair. Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Frank D. Hall, 10 North Side Square.

dition for the battle. Difficulty in obtaining information as to happenings in the republic is becoming greater each day, largely because of the strict censorship maintained by the Government. Even correspondents with the Federal troops are prevented from communicating details of events of the past few days.

The censorship was extended to the cable lines. This was resorted to during the Madero revolution. Later in the day the order was modified to an extent, but it still applies to military operations. This attitude of the government officers has been taken to indicate that the Government's news is bad, and this feeling was reflected in a meeting of members of the Diplomatic Corps resident here. The gathering took place at the American Embassy and was devoted to a discussion of the situation.

It was apparent after the meeting that foreign representatives view recent developments with considerable concern, although expressing themselves as hopeful for Government success.

News comes from various sources that the city of Puebla is in apparent imminent danger of falling into the hands of Zapatistas. It is reported 2,000 Zapatistas are encamped in the vicinity of the town, and they have control of the Mexican Southern railroad. The fall of Puebla would be a severe blow to Federal prestige.

Persons coming from Torreon report almost desperate conditions among the poor there. Their near approach to starvation during the three weeks the town was without rail communication has been partially relieved, as simple rations are provided with public funds. Foreigners are prepared for their own defense, and are said to expect an outbreak of anti-foreign feeling in the event the starving people become desperate.

In Mexico City the appearance of a new series of bills posted on walls throughout the city indicates a possible demonstration of political bitterness between opposing factions when Francisco De La Barra reaches here on his return from Europe.

Posters condemning one party or another in bitter terms have been displayed, and furnish daily food for discussion. That De La Barra's arrival may be followed by popular disorders is widely feared. He will arrive about April 5.
